Describing my current programming skills, I can say that I'm able to design, code, verify, test, document, and refactor simple programs. As for my familiarity with JavaScript, I'm not that familiar with JavaScript but I've tried to learn about it a long time ago once. I look forward to learning new things here and want to do well in this unit. So, I'll do my best to go for an HD (High Distinction) target grade for this unit.
